

Trust In Baskans May Be Timed With Nazi Invasion Plans

London—Belief of a possibility of a world-wide conflagration involving an allied German invasion of Britain and Gibraltar and a Japanese thrust at Singapore increased among diplomatic and military authorities here, when it was learned that the Italian invasion of this island is planned for the latter part of the year. It is considered that a plan of grandiose proportion to seize the island in three or four days would strengthen possibilities—Gibraltar, Hong Kong and Singapore—while Germany and air force try to break through the defenses.

Despite confusion and growing strains in the Balkans and London in the Far East, British resources will still all surface again pointed out a Nazi thrust toward southern Europe just before Hitler launches his ever-pending drive into Norway and through the Low Countries and France last April and May.

The gradual tightening of British resources viewed by foreign observers as one sign that Britain are not allowing the present calm in the Balkans to divert their attention from the perils of an invasion of the British Isles.

Not since Nazi bombers hammered Coventry and submarines ranged the North Atlantic had full aid been so difficult to assemble for publication—The British Empire's position.

It is estimated that the British Empire's resources in invasion are the most powerful in the world. The United States' fighting planes from the packing case to the firing line are plentiful, warships, tanks, and armaments are abundant.

The public has been told by Prime Minister Churchill of the gas threat. There is a general feeling that the Germans will use gas, but perhaps only as airships and coastal fortifications.

The first German bombs are expected from the air, with attacks on the coast, the port, and the city. Gas is an attempt to immobilize British Army fighters and bombardiers. The time limit for the gas is carrying aircraft, each with 20 fully equipped infantrymen, may try to land on the coast.

The Germans are expected to use methods to prevent the British from rushing up reinforcements to counter-attack any German landing party which reaches the beaches.

It is now time British authorities expect some top bombing of the immediate areas selected for the first landing.

It seems generally agreed in responsible quarters that the German plan is to land on the coast, at Britain a drive at the Suez through Turkey, after consolidation of the position in Italy, and an attack on Gibraltar, possibly through Spain.

Australia Prepared To Face Crisis
Sydney, Australia.—The Australian government announced after a grave crisis in passing that it would meet with its allies and its people "can and will face any crisis calmly and with deliberate purpose."

With Australian chiefs of staff and other military leaders, the Australian Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brough, British Air Commander-in-Chief, the war cabinet announced a Pacific situation, the situation in the Pacific, and the situation in the Pacific.
